COFFEE BREAK
San Francisco.- The diamond-studded glass knob off the top of a solid gold coffee pot is missing. Said to be worth $30,000, the knob was lifted recently from the pot — valued at $70,000 — from the stand where it was being displayed in a department store. The whole pot vanished two years ago from a Boston express office, later turning up unscratched.
It was made in 1956 at New Britain, Conn., as the ten millionth percolator turned out by a maker of nationally advertised coffee pots.
